

Darwinists are in dismay!

Darwinists have concluded from the way orang utans produce the sound of laughter that these are the ancestors of human beings.

Let us not provide other evidence, although this evidence may well depress Darwinists even further: If Darwinists are looking for similarities, orang utans' teeth also resemble those of human beings. They also have two eyes and a nose in the front of their heads, just like human beings! They also have two ears and two arms. They eat and move. Just like human beings, they drink water and clean themselves. They have fingernails, just like human beings, and their hands resemble ours.

And even more than all this, THEY ALSO MAKE LAUGHING SOUNDS.

The way that Darwinists have become obsessed by this laughing sounds, despite all these other similarities, is a clear sign of the depressed state they are in. What they should do is to take the points we have listed above according to Darwinists' distorted logic as their starting point and refer to these as supposed evidence for so-called evolution. But they are currently trying to depict the way a baby orang utan laughs when tickled as evidence for this nonsense by stirring all Darwinist publications into action. This is a sign of the seriously depressed state in which Darwinists find themselves.

But what Darwinists are unable to grasp is this; the more a living thing resembles human beings, the more human beings like it. Because, as it says in the Qur'an, human beings are created in the best of forms. These features in humans also being manifested in other living things is a great blessing for us. People will still enjoy these similarities if they exist in an insect, a butterfly. That is the secret behind Allah creating some life forms to resemble human beings. One of the wise aspects in Allah's Creation of similarities is His showing beauty and blessings in living things to human beings, who possess the awareness and consciousness with which to appreciate them. It is a miracle how Allah causes an animal to laugh. Because animals are devoid of consciousness and are unaware of their own existence. It is a great blessing, a sublime beauty created by Allah, the way that a living thing with no consciousness can enjoy itself, laugh, know love and compassion, protect its young, groom itself and defend itself and its offspring, and take precautionary measures. But Darwinists cannot account for any of these attributes. The way that Darwinists are trying to depict this similarity specially created by Allah as proof of so-called evolution, on the basis of no scientific evidence whatsoever, shows the despair in which they find themselves.

Darwinists are truly wretched to persistently make such ludicrous claims to prop up their false theories. If Darwinists are to produce any evidence for the fraud they call evolution, then they must back up their claims regarding fictitious ape-like ancestors with scientific evidence. They must prove them with genuine, concrete and scholarly evidence. For example, THEY MUST PRODUCE A TRANSITIONAL FORM FOSSIL. That would be scientific evidence. BUT DARWINISTS ARE OF COURSE UNABLE TO PRODUCE A SINGLE PIECE OF EVIDENCE IN SUPPORT OF EVOLUTION, AND CANNOT POINT TO A SINGLE TRANSITIONAL FOSSIL. Because this theory IS A HUGE FRAUD. That is why the only thing that Darwinists keep using as so-called evidence is living things' similarity to human beings, itself Allah's glorious artistry. This fact is manifest evidence of the wretched state that Darwinist demagoguery has left Darwinists in.
