

A rapid increase in the number of the Danish people embracing Islam

In Denmark, interest in Islam shows an increase. A study by University of Copenhagen reveals that the number of Danish people converting to Islam has mounted up.

The conclusion of the 69 paged report prepared by the University of Copenhagen confirmed some of the experts' arguments in that matter. Although the content of the report has not been declared to the press yet, it has been revealed to the government authorities. The politicians who reviewed the report stated that the increasing number of the Danish people converted to Islam is really very astonishing.

Karsten Lauritzen, spokesman for the Liberal Party of Government stated that; "I am really surprised to learn how many Danish people converted to Islam!"
