Adnan Oktar: The most perfect thing to do would be to establish the Turkish-Islamic Union. In other words, taking the lead of all the Islamic countries as well as all the Turkic cities because these Turkic cities are already Muslims in general. But at the same time it is important for Turkey to become the elder brother of the region, protect the interests of Armenia, work hard for their prosperity, also protect the interests of Israel, bring peace to Palestine, BRING PEACE TO THE REGION, BECOME THE ELDER BROTHER OF THE REGION IN EVERY ASPECT. This duty is urgent and significant when the European Union is considered. Shaking off the anxieties of terror is an enormous blessing and luxury for European Union. Turkic-Islamic Union will certainly provide this in the strongest way and all these pain and disorder which the Islamic world faces will come to an end. Turkic states can make a great civilization leap forward which meets the standards already being used in Europe - even much more of it -because Turkic states have a rich potential. This is indeed a wealthy geography but the Turkic states are not being organized properly. For example, today Turkmenistan or Azerbaijan owns a splendid potential. So, the union of these countries will bear the biggest civilization of the world.

Adnan Oktar: United States has already seen that it couldn't success in this business. This is not something they can do on their own. Also Europe is not able to make it, they stand aside. Iraq cannot make it on its own as it is going to be destroyed in such a case and will face civil war and disorder. The problem between Palestine and Israel can not get an end, as well. The only solution is Turkey's taking the elder brother role through the region,

Insha'Allah. Turkey needs to offer this role. Only, it should be declared in an official way. Thus, peace, justice and ease will penetrate into the region and the economy will brighten up, experience a full recovery and all these states in the region will become the super powers...
