

WEASEL SKULL

The fossil record has revealed that Darwin's claims are incompatible with the facts. The evolutionist speculation that is still continuing today stems from an inability to accept this error of Darwin's. The 59-million-year-old weasel skull pictured once again proves that this species has never changed. Every fossil examined in this book demolished Darwin's myth of transition from one form to another. It's now time for contemporary evolutionists to come to terms with Darwin's mistake and to admit the scientific facts.
