

A Muslim Attack On Darwin

The newspaper Jyllands-Posten, Denmark's highest selling national daily at 150,000 copies, carried a number of reports about the Atlas of Creation and its impact on several occasions.

The newspaper first published an article headed "A Muslim Attack on Darwin" on 24 April, 2007, which said:

"Wealthy Muslim businessmen state that Darwin's theory of evolution is the source of communism, Nazism, racism and terrorism ... Since the summer of 2006 an encyclopedic book full of detailed illustrations has been sent out to Europe by a publishing house in Istanbul. This book has been dispatched, free of charge, to Danish parliamentarians, scientists and high school teachers in recent months..."

A report dated 25 April, 2007, headed "Researchers Warn against a Book" again described how the theory of evolution is depicted as the source of such bloody ideologies as communism, Nazism, racism and terrorism. It said how researchers regarded the Atlas of Creation as dangerous propaganda against the theory of evolution.

In its 29 April, 2007, edition the newspaper published an article titled "God and Creation." This described the struggle initiated against Darwin and the theory of evolution by Muslim creationism.

On 30 April, 2007, it published a report by Poul Bjerregaard of the Syddansk College Institute of Biology. This considered the panic caused by the major impact the Atlas of Creation was having on all sections of society, including the Ministry of Education. The article said:

"Impressive propaganda against the theory of evolution from wealthy circles. There are concerns that Harun Yahya's Atlas of Creation may have a major impact on our education system."

Muslimsk offensiv mod Darwin

Pengestærke, muslimske forretningsmænd angriber den moderne videnskab med lærebog, der hævder, at Darwins evolutionslære er skyld i kommunisme, nazisme, racisme og terrorisme.

Siden sommeren 2006 har de fra et forlag i Istanbul i Tyrkiet sendt en voluminøs bog med glittet papir, farvebilleder og detaljerede illustrationer til akademiske miljøer i Europa. De seneste måneder har danske folketingspolitikere, videnskabsmænd og et gymnasium modtaget boggaven uden følgebrev og uden beregning.

Bogen "Atlas of Creation" er et 765 sider langt frontalangreb på udviklingslæren om, at mennesket stammer fra aberne.

»Darwinismen er roden til flere voldelige ideologier, der har ført til katastrofer for menneskeheden i det 20. århundrede.« fremgår det af bogen.

Den konkluderer, at Darwins udviklingslære har ført til kommunisme, nazisme, racisme og terrorisme. Islam er løsningen på verdens konflikter, hævder bogen samtidig.
