Islam's call for unity

Islam's call for unity

Ramadhan Commentary

All Prophets called for the worship of God, for love and brotherhood, for the establishment of justice and for love in human society. Muslim scholars say the solution to today's problems and crises is a return to the teachings of the divine Prophets, for they were sent by the Almighty for the good of the humanity.

Many Islamic passages state this same fact: "Worship the Lord your God and serve Him only." (Matthew 4:10) "... of the Lord our God the Lord is One. Love the Lord your God with all your heart, all your soul, all your mind, and all your strength." (Mark 12:29-30) "You are right in saying that God is One and there is no other but Him." (Mark 12:32)

The Quran also conveys the following good news: Introspective of the instantaneous experience of the unbeliever's wish and conviction, their efforts will come to naught and they will not achieve the results they desire. Every conspiracy and scheme to disseminate evil and untruth will be ultimately foil, and the schemes of those who engage evil and untruth will fail them against them, for the Quran states:

They conspired their plan, but their plan was with God, even if they were such as to make the mountains smoke. Do not imagine that God will forget His promise to His Messengers. God is all-seeing, Exonerator of punishment. (Quran 14:4-7)

The duty of all believers is clear: they need to unite and join forces in order to establish societies dominated by peace, tranquility, prosperity, morality, goodness, happiness and security. If we coordinate our efforts for such a noble undertaking, God will give us success.

At the time, only man is in a loss — except for those who believe and do right actions and urge each other to the right and urge each other to unrighteousness. (Quran 107:1-3)

Second coming of Jesus

Other Islamic scholars say that Muslims and Christians agree that Jesus, the Messiah, was a messenger of peace, discipline and love based upon righteousness and justice. He was raised in His Mother's womb — Virgin Mary — that Almighty God chose her as impeccable and created her above the women of the world. There's no doubt, after God — the Prophet's creation, the Benefactor, the Merciful — created the human beings, did not forsake them on their own. By sending and assigning the messengers — prophets and messengers — by providing the human-kind with the gifts of intellect and free-will, they are guided in the right path — in order to achieve the complete perfection.

The philosophy of human existence is reaching the pinnacle of bliss, construction of immaculate life, realization of all potentialities and talents, implementation of justice and discipline across the world amongst all human beings.

This is one of the ultimate Divine promises that when the world is filled with oppression and enmity by humans and apes, it will become full of justice by the reappearance of the promised Messiah. All the Divine Prophets have clearly announced this fact.

One Islamic scholar read today's status quo of the world as obviously godless. If Jesus was present today, he would propose an agreement against those who would propagate obscenity, immorality and perversion and oppression. If Jesus was present today, he would offer a covenant against those who try to discharge the world from morality, spirituality, justice and peace.

They by day, nations would realize the sense of faith and godliness. We believe that the beloved Jesus would also step forward for the fulfillment of the promise of Allah (Divine prophet).

The Almighty created the universe, the human beings and human beings for Him will. He created every human being with the ability to reach the heights of perfection. He called on man to make every effort to live a good life in this world and to work to achieve the everlasting life.

On this difficult and challenging journey of man from dust to the divine, He did not leave humanity to its own devices. He has been there to create the most intricate in His Prophets to guide humanity.

All Prophets called for the worship of God, for love and brotherhood, for the establishment of justice and for love in human society.

Islam was born as one of the great prophets — others being Noah, Moses, Abraham and Muhammad (Hussain) and Jesus (Uguz) (Quran 4:163)

Islamic scholars say the solution to today's problems and crises is a return to the teachings of the divine Prophets, they were sent by the Almighty for the good of humanity.

There's no doubt, after God — the
